

Draft AC 20-06 v1.0 - Defect reporting

Overview

The purpose of this Advisory Circular (AC), is to provide guidance and information to people reporting defects discovered in aircraft or aeronautical products to the Civil Aviation Safety Authority (CASA), in accordance with Part 4B of Civil Aviation Regulations (CAR) or Division 42.C.4 and Subdivision 42.D.6.2 of Civil Aviation Safety Regulations (CASR).

Draft AC 20-06 v1.0 replaces CAAP 51-1(2), as the CAAP only referred to aircraft maintained under the CAR. This AC will cover aircraft maintained under both the CAR and the CASR. It also includes a chapter detailing defects which do not need to be reported to CASA.

This AC:

- incorporates aircraft maintained under the CASR
- includes a section describing defects that do not need to be reported, to lower the impost on industry and CASA
- changes terminology from Service Difficulty Reports to Defect Reports
- removes reference to CASA's SDR system and now refers to CASAs Defect Reporting service.

Audience

This AC applies to:

- Aircraft Engineer Licence holder
- Aircraft Registered Operators
- Air Operator's Certificate holders
- Approved Maintenance Organisations
- Certificate of Approval holders
- Continuing Airworthiness Management Organisations
- Pilots or other persons authorised to carry out maintenance.
