

Preliminary Airspace Review Adelaide 2020

Overview

The Office of Airspace Regulation is conducting a review of the airspace within Adelaide in South Australia.

This Preliminary Airspace Review will assess the suitability of the current airspace structure from ground level, to 8,500 feet above mean sea level within 36 nautical miles (NM) of Adelaide aerodrome, and review risks related to aircraft occurrences.

CASA is required to conduct regular reviews of Australian-administered airspace under the Airspace Act. The Office of Airspace Regulation (OAR) is responsible for conducting these reviews on behalf of CASA.

The OAR determines the need and priority for an airspace review based on information related to annual aircraft and passenger movements, aviation incidents and any feedback or information provided on issues related to airspace activity.

Documents for review

A copy of the Terms of Reference for the Adelaide airspace review is provided below. This includes a downloadable PDF of this consultation for ease of distribution and feedback within your organisation. Please use the online consultation form for your response.

If you would like to provide further feedback, please email OAR@casa.gov.au. Feedback submitted by email will be considered but cannot be published publicly.

Further information about airspace regulation <<https://www.casa.gov.au/airspace/airspace-regulation>> and the airspace change process <<https://www.casa.gov.au/airspace/airspace-regulation/airspace-change-process>> are available on the CASA website.

Why we are consulting

We are seeking feedback to understand industry and community issues, observations or positions regarding safety, efficiency and improvements to the current airspace in Adelaide, South Australia.

It is anticipated that the review process will take approximately six months. The review document will then be released for final public consultation.
