

Preliminary Airspace Review Albury 2021

Overview

The Office of Airspace Regulation is conducting a review of the airspace within the Albury region in New South Wales.

The review will evaluate the fitness for purpose of the airspace within 25 nautical miles radius of Albury Regional Airport (YMAY) from the surface up to 8,500 feet.

CASA is required to conduct regular reviews of Australian-administered airspace under the Airspace Act. The Office of Airspace Regulation (OAR) is responsible for conducting these reviews on behalf of CASA.

The OAR determines the need and priority for an airspace review based on information related to annual aircraft and passenger movements, aviation incidents and any feedback or information provided on issues related to airspace activity.

Documents for review

A copy of the Terms of Reference for the airspace review within the Albury region is provided below. This includes a downloadable PDF of this consultation for ease of distribution and feedback within your organisation. Please use the online consultation form for your response.

If you would like to provide further feedback, please email OAR@casa.gov.au. Feedback submitted by email will be considered but cannot be published publicly.

Further information about airspace regulation <<https://www.casa.gov.au/airspace/airspace-regulation>> and the airspace change process <<https://www.casa.gov.au/airspace/airspace-regulation/airspace-change-process>> are available on the CASA website.

Why we are consulting

We are seeking feedback to understand industry and community issues, observations or positions regarding safety, efficiency and improvements to the current airspace in the Albury region of New South Wales.

It is anticipated that the review process will take approximately six months. The review document will then be released for final public consultation.
